1. What is this product?

Type

This product is a bearer bond issued under German law.

Term

The product has a fixed lifetime and will be due on the Redemption Date, subject to an early redemption.

Objectives

Objective of the product is to provide you with a specified entitlement according to predefined conditions. You may receive a Bonus Payment on a Bonus Payment Date if the Reference Price is below the Redemption Threshold on the relevant Observation Date (excluding the last Observation Date) or with respect to the last Bonus Payment Date if the Reference Price is below the Strike Price and above the Barrier on the last Observation Date. The Bonus Payments are calculated based on the product of the Calculation Amount and the Interest Rate per annum. You may not receive a Bonus Payment on a Bonus Payment Date if the product will be repaid prematurely. The product may be repaid prematurely during its lifetime on an Early Redemption Date if the Reference Price is at or above the Redemption Threshold on an Observation Date (excluding the last Observation Date). In this case you will receive the Redemption Payment assigned to the relevant Observation Date. The Redemption Payments rise from one Observation Date to the next.

If the product has not been prematurely repaid, the possibilities for the redemption of the product are as follows:

- (i) If the Reference Price on the Valuation Date is at or above the Strike Price you will receive on the Redemption Date the Redemption Payment assigned to the last Observation Date.
- (ii) If the Reference Price on the Valuation Date is above the Barrier, but below the Strike Price you will receive the Calculation Amount.
- (iii) If the Reference Price on the Valuation Date is at or below the Barrier, you will receive a Redemption Amount which is equivalent to the product of the Calculation Amount and the Reference Price on the Valuation Date divided by the Strike Price. In this case, you will make a loss in case the sum of the Redemption Amount and the accrued Bonus Payments you received over the lifetime is below the purchase price of the product.

You renounce the entitlement to a dividend from the components of the Underlying and you have no right to any further entitlement resulting from the components of the Underlying (e.g. voting rights).

The product is intended for private clients who pursue the objective of general asset formation / asset optimization and have a medium-term investment horizon. 2. What are the risks and what could I get in return?

Risk Indicator

The summary risk indicator is a guide to the level of risk of this product compared to other products. It shows how likely it is that the product will lose money because of movements in the markets or because we are not able to pay you.

We have classified this product as 6 out of 7, which is the second-highest risk class.

This rates the potential losses from future performance at a high level, and poor market conditions are very unlikely to impact our capacity to pay you.

This product does not include any protection from future market performance so you could lose some or all of your investment.

If we are not able to pay you what is owed, you could lose your entire investment.

Performance Scenarios

What you will get from this product depends on future market performance. Market developments in the future are uncertain and cannot be accurately predicted.

The scenarios shown are illustrations based on results from the past and on certain assumptions. Markets could develop very differently in the future.

Recommended holding period:	Until the product is called or matures This may be different in each scenario and is indicated in the table
Example Investment	EUR 10,000 If you redeem at call or maturity
Scenarios
Minimum	You could lose some or all of your investment.

Favourable (product ends on [●])	What you might get back after costs	EUR [●]

The figures shown include all the costs of the product itself, but may not include all the costs that you pay to your advisor or distributor. The figures do not take into account your personal tax situation, which may also affect how much you get back.

The stress scenario shows what you might get back in extreme market circumstances.

The scenarios shown represent possible outcomes calculated based on simulations. [In the case of an early redemption, it has been assumed that no reinvestment occurs.]

3. What happens if XY Bank is unable to pay out?

You are exposed to the risk that the Issuer might be unable to fulfil its obligations in respect of the product – e.g. in the event of insolvency (inability to pay / over-indebtedness) or an administrative order of resolution measures. In case of a crisis of the Issuer such an order can also be issued by a resolution authority in the run-up of an insolvency proceeding. Thereby the resolution authority has extensive intervention powers. Among other things, it can reduce rights of the investors to zero, terminate the product or convert it into shares of the Issuer and suspend rights of the investors. A total loss of your capital invested is possible. The product is a debt instrument and as such is not covered by any deposit protection scheme.

4. What are the costs?

The person advising on or selling you this product may charge you other costs. If so, this person will provide you with information about these costs and how they affect your investment.

Costs over time

The tables show the amounts that are taken from your investment to cover different types of costs. These amounts depend on how much you invest, how long you hold the product. The amounts shown here are illustrations based on an example investment amount and different investment periods.

The duration of this product was uncertain as could have been terminated at different times depending on how the market evolves. The amounts shown here consider two different scenarios (early call and maturity). In case you decide to redeem before the product ends, exit costs may apply in addition to the amounts shown here.

We have assumed:

- EUR 10,000 is invested
- a performance of the product that is consistent with each holding period shown.
